Omnivores are animals that eat both animal and plant material.

How are omnivore teeth similar to and different from carnivores and herbivores?